LEGALIZING VIOLENCE

Summer Dresses at

The petitions now being circulated constitution of the state be amended so as to take from the courts the power to issue injunctions in labor and revolutionary moves ever made in a democratic country in time of peace. The suspension of the writ of habeas corpus would be fraught with no more danger to the rights of citi zens that the depriving of certain classes of our people of the right to seek this remedy to prevent the destruction of their property and the radical kind of class legislation be-

Mr. and Mrs. George Wilson of Ferris attended the L. O. T. M. Memorial it is aimed, but the evil effects from such legislation will touch every citizen of the state. We cannot isolate such a vicious principle. Sooner or later the whole people, who pay all the hills in the end, will taste the bit-ter fruit, and it is better that they should realize this before putting their hands to a petition which bound to handicap their commercial activities, work disaster to their industries and open the door to a whole flood of vicious legislation. fundamental law of the state is to be changed so as to deprive the manufacturer of the power to protect his property by injunction it will pave the way for an orgie of disorder and destruction against which the local authorities will be powerless.

Organized labor may deny that it intends either disorder or destruction. but the very fact that it is asking that the legal restraints upon such action be removed proves the case against it. If a business man's property is threatened with destruction at the hands of disgruntled employees or anyone else is he not entitled to the entire force of the commonwealth to protect it? If organized labor does not intend to coerce the employer by naw shopping Monday.

The Misses Mazie Coleman, Alice threatening the destruction of his property why is it making such strenuous efforts to deprive him of the legal protection which he has had since the foundation of the republic? The mo-tive behind all this activity is too transparent to deceive any citizen who will acquaint himself with the facts

It is time that the people realized that they have to pay, in the final accounting, for all labor disputes, strikes, lockouts and boycotts. This fact is unescapable. Have the people of any city in this state so many fac-tories that they can afford to open the doors to fire and destruction? Are we not all vitally interested in the payrolls of our factories? Are we not all affected adversely when those payrolls dwindle or disappear? Can we afford to place our factories at the mercy of those who respect not the personal or property rights of another? The vast majority of our workingmen are orderly and law-abiding citizens, but there are unfortu-nately, too many to whom the de-struction of property appeals as the best arguments which can be used in the settlement of labor disputes. Be fore our citizens give encouragement to this movement they should con-sider the patent fact that organized labor would not ask for this power if it did not intend to use it.
